The Class Of 1991

It's Important To Have Teachers Like Mr. Mulligan

We the Joseph Case High School senior class of 1991, proudly dedicate our class yearbook to Mr. Craig Mulligan. Mr. Mulligan is one of the most energetic and involved teachers in our school system. He was always there for the student. Never once has he ever refused to give up his own free time to help a student.

Before we were born Mr. Mulligan had graduated from Georgetown University after serving in the United States Navy. He started teaching the sons and daughters of Swansea in 1959. His interest in sports led to a position of assistant football coach, as well as annual pilgrimages to Major League Baseball parks across the United States, participation in triathalons, and the Boston Marathon.

Mr. Mulligan's entertaining stories, jokes, and little witticisms have always made his math class worth staying awake for. Not only did we have fun laughing in his class, most of all we learned. We learned a lot, from Basic Geometry to Calculus. He has an uncanny knack for bringing the most difficult concepts down to a level the students can easily understand. He always kept our attention—one way or another,

"O.K. troops! Any questions, raise your left paw. Son!

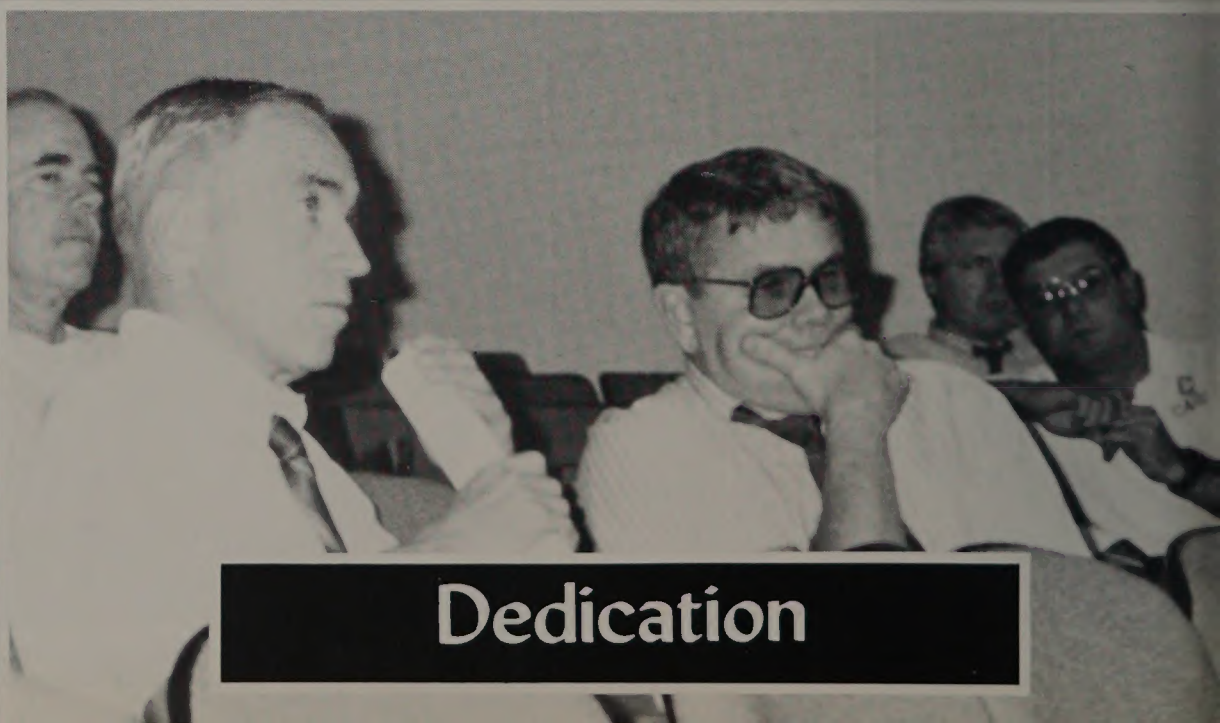

That's 20 minutes at the end of day, not my end of day but your end of day. Holy Bullfrogs!"
What a teacher!

Mr. Mulligan always made an effort to support all school functions. Many a ball game and many a pancake breakfast has he gone to. Mr. Mulligan is more than just a teacher; he's a friend, who's willing to help in any way he can. He has both the class of 1991's and the faculty's endorsement of a man of integrity, a man to trust.

It's important to have teachers like Mr. Mulligan. Some one who cares that much and gives that much time, has a lasting effect on a student, an effect that stays with him or her for a lifetime. It's that type of teacher that gives a student a background, a strong background. It's that type of teacher that will make sure that the future generations of this country will live up to their full potential. Thanks for everything Mr. Mulligan.

To the Class of 1991:

I am pleased to congratulate the Class of 1991 on completing their education in the Swansea Public Schools. You should be very proud of all the achievements that your class has accomplished during the past year. The Class of 1991 is truly a vintage class in the history of Case High School.

I urge you to continue to strive to be the very best in everything that you undertake in the future, and I am certain that if you approach the challenges in life that you have faced with the same dedication and enthusiasm you have exhibited during your high school career, you will be equally successful.

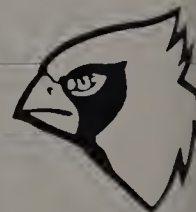

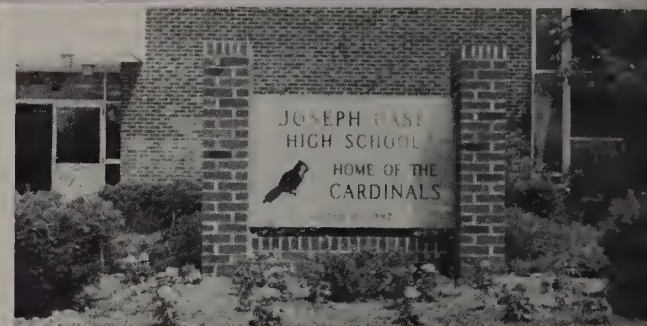

I wish you the best for success, health, and happiness in the future.

There are things that you will remember as the years pass. These will be different for each of you. Some will remember their experiences on the field of competition; others will take pride in their scholarly accomplishments. Some will value the friendships made during their four years at Case; others will be grateful to those who have provided help and support. You all brought something to this school as freshmen and you are all taking something with you as graduating seniors. You have become part of Case High School and for this neither you nor the school will ever be the same.

I hope that you feel that your years at Case have prepared you for whatever lies ahead. My wish to the graduates is that your lives will be filled with happiness, success and all of the good things that this wonderful world has to offer.

Principal's Message

Dear Graduates,

Sociologist Michael Walzer stated that, "Education expresses what is, perhaps, our deepest wish: to continue, to go on, to persist in the face of time." Without education there is little hope, there is stagnation and little promise of growth. In essence, education is a life long process that just begins with the formal rite of passage known as "Graduation". I urge you, the Class of 1991, to continue to learn and to further your education for only through the continued acquisition of knowledge can you be prepared for the uncertainties of the future.

It is the fervent hope of the faculty, staff and administration of Joseph Case High School that we have played some small part in the process of your life long education and that your path to the future will be filled with promise and happiness.

Assistant Principal

Dear Class of 1991,

Like you, I am about to start a new chapter in life's venture. I hope that your experiences at Case have been rewarding and as fulfilling for you as they were for me. May you have the best of luck and success in the future. God Bless.

Sincerely yours,

Gerald A. Furtado

GOOD LUCK, MR. FURTADO

V.P. Furtado Leaves Case For Warren

The first week of September, Gerald Furtado received an offer he couldn't refuse. Mr. Furtado, vice-principal of Case High was offered the job of principal at Warren High School in Rhode Island.

A vice-principal at Case High for 15 years, he also has held positions of elementary teacher, teacher in charge of special education, and Director of a post-secondary business school.

A 1958 graduate of Case High, he was and still is a staunch supporter of Case's athletic and technical education programs. Even though he had to discipline us and bop us with occasional detentions he graduates with us in 1991 and we wish him well.

1990 Captain Michelle Silva, Coach Christine Stanton, Captain Aimee Lecomte

Case High's volleyball team added to their state record of consecutive titles when they won their fifth in a row and second against Division I opponents when they stopped Quincy in five sets Saturday afternoon in a two and a half hour match at Marlboro High.

Coach Christine Stanton's squad won the first two sets 15-10, 15-8 but lost the next two 15-10, 15-11 setting the stage for the deciding fifth set which went to Case 16-14.

The Cards reached the finals by eliminating Chelmsford for the second time in two years, 15-4, 15-10, 15-9 in Needham on Wednesday evening.

But it was the classic rematch between the Cards and the powerful Quincy team which goes down in the record books.

Like Case, Quincy had most of their starting lineup back from a year ago, and had a lineup that included six members of the Junior Elite team.

But they were more than matched by the Cardinals particularly Aimee Lecomte and Kathy Kelly who finished out their 100th volleyball game at Case in blazing style.

Lecomte had 17 aces and 19 kills during the game while Kelly added 10 aces and 15 kills.

The two along with Monica Tobin and Michelle Silva were outstanding as blockers while Kerri McMahon was at the top of her game as a setter along with freshman Pam Kelly.

In addition to their play, Donna Mello was particularly notable on defense.

"We have something we call hero plays," said coach Stanton, "those are plays that no one thinks can be done and Donna had four of them. She had one where she jumped up and ended up in the bleachers but still got the pass off and in another she just about cleared our bench."

Cardinals

"The four seniors just played great, this was really for them, I was just so happy to see them go out winners," the coach said, "Aimee and Kathy had played 100 games for me, that is the most you can play, 20 during the season and five in the tournament. They played on the varsity since their freshman year and we won four state championships with them, Michelle and Donna played 75 games each."

The Cardinals, after trailing 7-0 in the first set, pulled away and won 15-10 and then took the second set in easier fashion, 15-8.

"After we won those first two sets, I was thinking sweep," but we seem to have trouble in the third set, I don't know if it's because we usually play two out of three, but that third set has been tough for us."

Case lost only four of 59 sets all year, once to Dighton-Rehoboth in a 2-1 victory, and the other to Barnstable in the 3-1 win before the two to Quincy.

After losing the first two, Quincy snapped back to win the next two.

"I could see the momentum shifting," coach Stanton said, "Quincy was beginning to play a lot better, their offense was starting to roll and I knew we were in trouble."

The final set was a classic as Quincy had to come from six points behind to make a game of it.

The Cardinals had broken a 6-6 tie on hits by Lecomte and Kelly and then Donna Mello went to serve and came away with four straight points.

"Donna was really pumped up, two of those serves knocked over Quincy players," she was unbelievable," said coach Stanton whose squad still maintained vitality despite over two hours of action.

The 12-6 lead did not last long as the Presidents came back to make it 12-10 before a Kelly serve gave Case a three point cushion.

Volleyball team wins fifth straight championship

After Case had two more points, Quincy tied it at 14 and then with Kathy Kelly serving, Case got the next two including the final on a hit by Lecomte.

"It was just fantastic to see the girls win this one," the coach said, "they worked hard for it, all those practice sessions and conditioning paid off."

The coach and her team were also buoyed by the number of Swansea fans who attended the game.

"Our crowd really deserves a lot of credit. It was great to see them there," the coach said, "Marlboro is an hour and a half away but our fans came, the Superintendent, the Assistant superintendent, school committee, selectmen, just about the whole football team, it was just great."

Ironically after two straight division I titles the Cardinals may be heading back to Division II.

The cutoff was 275 girls, known in this area as the "Case High cutoff" because Case had barely over that number when they were moved up to Division I making them by far the smallest school competing on that level in volleyball.

"According to the figures we have 265 girls so we may be dropping back down a level in post season tournament," the coach said.

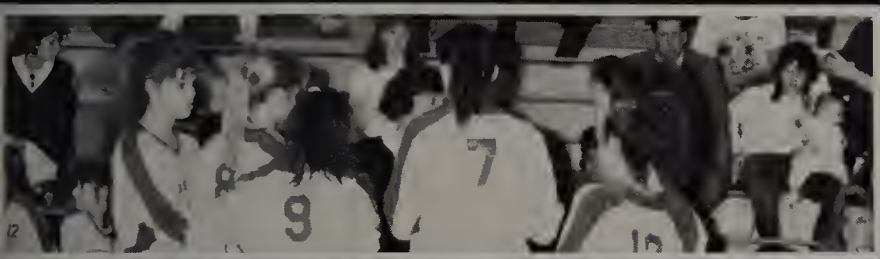

Case now has 84 wins in a row.
